

Worcester North High, Which Plays At Crocker Field Saturday, Can Put Team of Vets on Field

Worcester North High, which will meet Fitchburg High at Crocker Field Saturday afternoon, can put a team of letter winners against the Red and Gray if Coaches Al Ott and Chick Gagnon wish to use veterans in every position.

It will be the first game of the season for both teams. North won the inter-high championship of Worcester last year.

The Red and Gray has only three of the 1935 regulars on its squad. Many of the others have had experience as substitutes and members of Squad B.

The boys have showed up exceptionally clever in practice. In the scrimmage yesterday they went through their assignments in a way which indicated they would develop into a real team before the season is over. Naturally the team is restricted to a few plays for the opening battle but on a whole the squad is promising.

Another staff drill was held this morning. Tomorrow morning the squad will taper off in a light workout.

Circle street is still closed to traffic so autoists must reach the field by way of Broad street, entering at Rollstone or River street.

WINGBACKS by TINY THORNHILL

(Fourth in a series of 12 daily articles prepared by the coach of Stanford's Rose Bowl champions in collaboration with Russ Newland, Associated Press sports writer)

Wingback formations, which are the basis for practically all of Stanford's offensive plays, trace their origin to the days of the Carlisle Indians in the early 1900's.

Glenn Scooby Warner, a young coach with a lot of revolutionary ideas, came out one season with the Carlisle tandem.

It not only surprised rival coaches but it virtually junked the old T formation, in which the backs lined up behind a balanced line standing shoulder-to-shoulder behind the quarterback.

Warner's tandem operated behind an unbalanced line, forming an acute angle with the close-up back directly behind the right end. This tandem was the grandpappy of the single wingback.

Later on it was modified so that the close-up back flanked the right end. The other three backs were moved up closer to the line of scrimmage but each was stationed a bit deeper than the other.

Football comes on the stage here Saturday.

Fitchburg fans will have a chance to pick from two games in this city, one in Leominster and one in Gardner.

St. Joseph's To Have Fast Football Team

The reorganized St. Joseph's football club will hold its first practice at 6:30 o'clock tomorrow night at Daniels field.

Several former high school and college stars are on the squad.

Albert Gorham, former Fitchburg High center; Thomas Shea, former St. Bernard's High star; James Stuart, a newcomer to this city, who is a 193-pound Amherst junior varsity halfback; and James Elia of LaSalle academy have announced their intentions of playing.

Pfeiffer, Bakstran, Lambert and Kandelin will play for St. Joseph's again this year.

New uniforms have been purchased. With the return of many of last year's veterans, St. Joseph's will have a strong and flashy team.

At an enthusiastic meeting last week James Percival was chosen manager. He has already contacted several strong teams: George Glenney and Walter Benson will be the coaches.

Boudreau Wins Special

In a special match at the Putnam street alleys yesterday afternoon, Boudreau's Market defeated Cravedi and Sala Markets by 20 pins.

The teams had to roll an extra string as they were tied at 1279 for the three games. Cravedi and Sala won the first game by one pin, and the second by 17 but lost the third by 18 to tie the match. In the rolloff Boudreau's Market hit 461 against 441. The scores:

St. Bernard's High Squad Cut To 26 Players by the Coaches; Tentative Starting Lineup Picked

St. Bernard's high school football squad, which will open its season Saturday afternoon against St. Mary's High of Milford at St. Bernard's athletic field, was cut to 26 players yesterday. The boys who were picked worked out in a short passing drill. They have new blue silk pants and solid blue helmets which are offset by the snappy gold and blue jerseys and gold stockings.

There will be a dummy scrimmage today and a stiff passing drill. Coach Tarpey, during the past week, has been stressing the necessity of perfect teamwork in order that the wide open aerial attack may click.

Blocking and cleaning out the secondary has also been stressed in order that the ball carriers may get into the clear.

The failure of some of the regulars to carry out their assignments may lead to some of the second stringers getting the starting call.

The starting assignments although not positive show a first team weight of 1781 pounds. The line averages 166 pounds and the backfield 153 1-2.

A second team of average weight can be put on the field also. Most of the players have not had any game experience but have shown enough determination during the past two weeks to warrant them a chance in a regular game.

The tentative first team backfield is composed of Joe Cattel, quarterback; Jerry Bellevue, star punter and passer and the only triple threat, at right half; George McSheehy, last year's regular, left half; Dominic Guazzo, last year's regular guard, fullback.
